

"Co-opitition in a time of change: Surviving a down market through partner and channel innovation"
Sanjay Mewada

This presentation will provide insights for network equipment vendors on how to manage cooperative and competitive dynamics and partnerships to create survivability and momentum in the market during a difficult economic climate. It will identify specific initiatives and discuss comparative models in other segments of the industry.